Alliteration

Peter Piper picked
a peck of pickled
peppers.

Bingo the beagle
barked at the burglar.

Alliteration is
the repetition of the initial consonant sounds of two or more words.
This stylistic device
creates a musical effect
and enhances the pleasure of reading a
literary piece.

Rover Ridley
rarely takes a
rollercoaster ride.
