

Name : _____

A few vs A little

Both the phrases “a few” and “a little” are quantifiers meaning some. While “a few” is used with countable nouns, “a little” accompanies uncountable nouns.

Examples: I'll be back in a few minutes.

Please add a little sugar to my coffee.

Complete each sentence, using “a few” or “a little”, whichever is appropriate.

- 1) There are _____ cherries left in the basket.
- 2) _____ knowledge is a dangerous thing.
- 3) Only _____ athletes are nearing the finish line.
- 4) Despite working for many years, Scott has saved only _____ money.
- 5) Could you spare _____ moments for me?
- 6) We will need _____ more milk for dinner.
- 7) You must get _____ sleep before you travel.
- 8) Can I have _____ drops of olive oil added to my salad?
- 9) I have caught _____ fish.
- 10) I always add _____ cream to my coffee.