

Helping Verbs

A helping verb, or auxiliary verb, precedes the main verb in a sentence. It adds details, such as time and mood, to the main verb.

Example: Robert is doing his homework.

Choose one of the three helping verbs – is, am, or are – to complete each sentence.

1) I _____ going to my granny's house in Seattle now

2) Lisa _____ singing

3) My cousins _____

4) I _____ raking

5) The snake _____

6) The boys _____

7) Patrick _____

8) I _____ going to the park.

9) He _____ stacking the books.

10) They _____ collecting plastic bottles.

PREVIEW

Gain complete access to the largest collection of worksheets in all subjects!

Members, please log in to download this worksheet.

Not a member? Please sign up to gain complete access.

www.mathworksheets4kids.com

