

Linking Verbs

A true linking verb is a linking verb that never denotes action and always connects the subject to the predicate. Examples of true linking verbs include is, was, and become.

Example: Beth's clothes are dirty.

Complete each sentence with a true linking verb. Choose from is, was, were, are, and am.

1) I _____ on my way to the supermarket.

2) The apple pie _____

3) The jugglers _____

4) Tommy _____

5) The kids _____

6) The duck _____

7) The keys _____

8) His name _____ John.

9) Sesame Place _____ an amazing water park in Pennsylvania.

10) Peter and Serena _____ students of Stamford Elementary School.

PREVIEW

Gain complete access to the largest collection of worksheets in all subjects!

Members, please log in to download this worksheet.

Not a member? Please sign up to gain complete access.

www.mathworksheets4kids.com