

Name : _____

Herbivores, Carnivores, or Omnivores?

Who Am I?

I am one of the largest animals in the world. I have large, floppy ears. I pick my food with my long nose. My teeth are continuously growing, and I use them to dig for food and water and strip bark from trees. I never forget. Who am I?

I do not have limbs, and my whole body is covered with scales. I flick my forked tongue to smell my prey. I can inject poison with my bite. I swallow my prey whole. Who am I?

PREVIEW

Gain complete access to the largest collection of worksheets in all subjects!

Members, please log in to download this worksheet.

Not a member? Please sign up to gain complete access.

www.mathworksheets4kids.com

I am called "the king of the jungle". I have long legs to run and pounce, sharp claws to hold prey, and super - sharp teeth to eat the flesh of my prey. My paws are so soft that I can creep up slowly behind my prey and hunt them down for food.

I am the largest animal on the planet". I eat both plants as well as meat. I can even cultivate crops and use other animals for my food.

I have a bushy tail, and a black mask of fur covers my eye area. I am a nocturnal animal. My diet consists of cherries, apples, acorns, berries, frogs, fish, insects, rodents, and bird eggs. Who am I?

I am a marsupial, and I have a pouch on my belly to cradle my baby. I hop and jump on my hind legs. My muscular tail helps me balance. I chew on grasses, flowers, leaves, ferns, moss, herbs, and shrubs. Who am I?