

It's Like Riding a Bike

The story has many adverbs used in it. Read the story, and highlight the adverbs of manner.

Nathan confidently buckled the strap of his bicycle helmet and quickly pulled on his elbow and knee pads. He was eagerly waiting to try out his new ramp, which he had received for his birthday.

Bella and Christopher, two kids who lived down the street, stood nearby to watch him. Excitement hung in the air.

Nathan climbed
for maximum speed.

The ramp sat
his back tire followed the ground.

Nathan kept
shouted and clapped

He made the
Bella to have a turn.
Christopher went next.

They all made their jumps successfully. Nathan loved his new bicycle ramp. He felt as awesome as the coolest kid in town.

At last, it was time for Bella and Christopher to go home. They promised to return tomorrow for more bike riding. Nathan couldn't wait!

PREVIEW

Gain complete access to the largest collection of worksheets in all subjects!

Members, please log in to download this worksheet.

Not a member? Please sign up to gain complete access.

www.mathworksheets4kids.com

himself on the sidewalk
m. He pedaled fast!

He made the climb, and
seconds before hitting

Bella and Christopher
made the jump carefully.

He fell over the bicycle for
to take her turn.

Name : _____

It's Like Riding a Bike

The story has many adverbs used in it. Read the story, and highlight the adverbs of manner.

Nathan confidently buckled the strap of his bicycle helmet and quickly pulled on his elbow and knee pads. He was eagerly waiting to try out his new ramp, which he had received for his birthday.

Bella and Christopher, two kids who lived down the street, stood nearby to watch him. Excitement hung in the air.

Nathan climbed
for maximum speed.

The ramp sat
his back tire followed
the ground.

Nathan kept
shouted and clapped

He made the
Bella to have a turn.
Christopher went next.

They all made their jumps successfully. Nathan loved his new bicycle ramp. He felt as awesome as the coolest kid in town.

At last, it was time for Bella and Christopher to go home. They promised to return tomorrow for more bike riding. Nathan couldn't wait!

himself on the sidewalk
m. He pedaled fast!

He made the climb, and
seconds before hitting

Bella and Christopher
made the jump carefully.

He fell over the bicycle for took her turn.

PREVIEW

Gain complete access to the largest collection of worksheets in all subjects!

Members, please log in to download this worksheet.

Not a member? Please sign up to gain complete access.

www.mathworksheets4kids.com