

An adjective clause, also called a relative clause, is a dependent clause that functions as an adjective in a sentence. These are introduced by relative pronouns such as who, which, that, where, when, whose, etc.

Example Olivia wrote a song that stirred the listeners hearts.

Olivia wrote a song. It stirred the listeners' hearts.

PREVIEW

Break each sentence into two independent clauses, eliminating the relative clause.

1) Marshall uploaded a video that discussed a key issue.

2) The hotel was full of people who were waiting for the bus.

3) The children were waiting for the day when Grandma would visit.

4) The guests who had booked the room were waiting.

5) Mom spoke to the man who was driving away.

6) The company, which everyone enjoyed, was very successful.

7) The panel rejected Brenda, who had failed to submit the documents.

8) Liam, who is known for being a miser, threw a party.

Gain complete access to the largest collection of worksheets in all subjects!

Members, please log in to download this worksheet.

Not a member? Please sign up to gain complete access.

www.mathworksheets4kids.com