

Second Conditionals

The second conditional is used to imagine an unlikely present or future situation. To form a second conditional, we use the past simple in the "if" clause and "would" in the other clause.

Example: Mom would give Little Alan the world if she could.

PREVIEW

Fill in the blanks with the correct forms of the verb to make second-conditional sentences. Check the correct option.

- 1) My sister _____ a job if she _____.
a) will be giving b) would give
- 2) The committee _____ a request.
a) will be giving b) would give
- 3) If the Millers _____ in well.
a) will be giving b) would give
- 4) If it _____, the game is planned.
a) will be giving b) would give
- 5) Marion _____ a lot of work done.
a) would have gotten b) would get

Gain complete access to the largest collection of worksheets in all subjects!

Members, please log in to download this worksheet.

Not a member?
Please sign up to gain complete
access.

www.mathworksheets4kids.com