

Double Negatives

When we use negative words such as "no," "nobody," "never," "nothing," "no longer," "scarcely," "none," and "hardly" in a sentence, we don't commonly use a negative word with another negative word in the same sentence.

Read the sentences and color the boxes that do not have double negatives.

1) There isn't anybody in the room.

2) Morgan doesn't have any homework.

3) Isabel

4) I haven't got a piece of cake.

5) Scarlet didn't see a dark shadow.

6) We don't have a new movie.

7) Reese hasn't done anything wrong.

8) We don't have no more sandwiches.
