Joe lived by the river. One day, he went fishing. He wanted to catch a big fish. He wanted to say hello to the fish. He wanted to find some unknown treasure. He wanted to know how the water flows. He wanted to see what he could find. He wanted to behold it up close. He was curious.

Splash! He fell into the water.

Joe did not mind. He would go with the flow.

Down he swam. He found the glow. It was a golden stone.

Now, he had a new treasure.
