

Name : _____

Your or You're?

The words your and you're sound the same, but have different meanings and spellings. So, they are homophones.

Your is a possessive form of you. It means belonging to you.

Example: Is this your pen?

You're is the short(contract) form of you are.

Example: Everyone says that you're very kind and helpful.

Use your or you're to complete each sentence.

1) May I know _____ name, please?

2) _____ carvin

3) Did Jenny under

4) _____ new b

5) May I borrow _____

6) _____ blowin

7) Wear _____

8) Is this _____ pet dog?

9) Howard told me that _____ keen on joining our literary club.

10) Mr.Johnson is happy that _____ practicing the math sums several times.

PREVIEW

Gain complete access to the largest collection of worksheets in all subjects!

Members, please log in to download this worksheet.

Not a member? Please sign up to gain complete access.

www.mathworksheets4kids.com

