

What do you infer?

Look at each picture, read the description and choose the most appropriate inference.

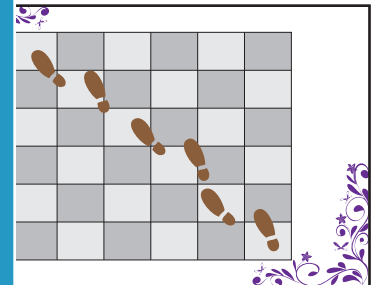

1) Jacob's backpack is open.

- He has taken his books to do homework.
- He is with his grandma.
- He is riding a bike.

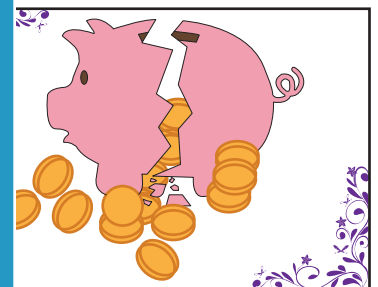

2) Edward's living room

- He is a detective
- He has brown shoes
- He was playing

3) Helen broke open

- She didn't want
- She is going to
- She decided to

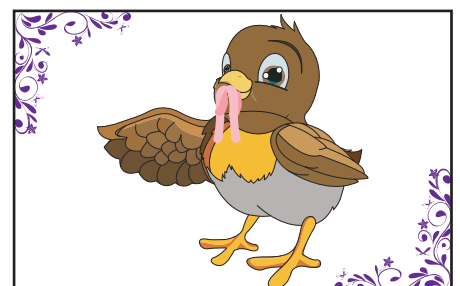

4) Mia was hiding behind

- She was examining
- She was too tired
- She was playing hide-and-seek with her friends.

5) Mama robin carried two worms in her beak.

- She was so hungry that she ate them all by herself.
- The baby robins were waiting for food in the nest.
- She didn't find a fish to eat and so ate the worms.

PREVIEW

Gain complete access to the largest collection of worksheets in all subjects!

Members, please log in to download this worksheet.

Not a member? Please sign up to gain complete access.

www.mathworksheets4kids.com

What do you infer?

Look at each picture, read the description and choose the most appropriate inference.

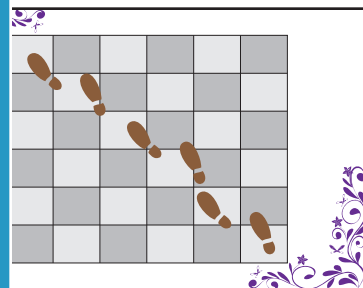

1) Jacob's backpack is open.

- He has taken his books to do homework.
 He is with his grandma.
 He is riding a bike.

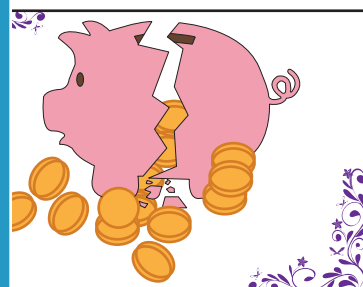

2) Edward's living room

- He is a detective
 He has brown shoes
 He was playing

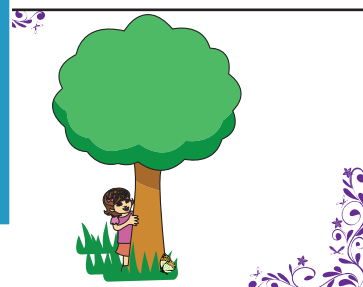

3) Helen broke open

- She didn't want
 She is going to
 She decided to

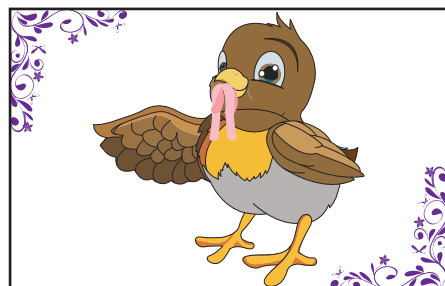

4) Mia was hiding behind

- She was examining
 She was too tired
 She was playing hide-and-seek with her friends.

5) Mama robin carried two worms in her beak.

- She was so hungry that she ate them all by herself.
 The baby robins were waiting for food in the nest.
 She didn't find a fish to eat and so ate the worms.

PREVIEW
 Gain complete access to the largest collection of worksheets in all subjects!

Members, please log in to download this worksheet.

Not a member?
 Please sign up to gain complete access.

www.mathworksheets4kids.com