

Making Predictions

Read each short story. Determine whether the prediction is likely to occur. Circle Yes or No.

1)	Noah packed his soccer uniform, cleats, and a water bottle for after school. When he arrived at practice, the coach said the field was too busy today.	Prediction Noah will have soccer practice this afternoon.	Yes / No
2)	Sofia set an alarm to wake up early and placed her backpack by the door. Her bus arrived at 7:30.	Prediction Sofia is getting ready to catch the school bus on time.	Yes / No
3)	Lily's class has been practicing for weeks. Today, the chairs in the gym are set up, and parents are arriving.	Prediction The class will perform their concert today.	Yes / No
4)	Ethan put popcorn on the table but forgot to close the lid. He pressed the stop button on the machine.	Prediction The popcorn will pop.	Yes / No
5)	A strong gust of wind blew Ava's homework off the table, but she quickly grabbed it before it fell.	Prediction Ava's homework will be ruined.	Yes / No
6)	Jayden forgot his jacket at home. The temperature outside is dropping, and the wind is getting stronger.	Prediction Jayden will feel cold outside.	Yes / No

PREVIEW

Gain complete access to the largest collection of worksheets in all subjects!

Members, please log in to download this worksheet.

Not a member? Please sign up to gain complete access.

www.mathworksheets4kids.com