What happens next?

Gone Fishing

Tracy and Michael practically bounced in their excitement. They were going fishing with Grandpa and Grandma Ferguson today. There was a circular pond at the end of their road, and the weather was perfect for fishing because it wasn't too hot but the sun was shining brightly. The four of them walked the short distance to the pond, then Grandpa and Grandma Ferguson showed them how to put worms on their fishing hooks. Tracy cast her line into the shimmering water. A moment later, Michael cast in his line, too. It only took a few minutes for Tracy to get a bite. She pulled up on her rod. Then she reeled in the line. She had caught a fish! Grandma helped her unhook the fish. Then they tossed it back in the water so it could swim away. Michael gasped in excitement. Now he had a bite, too!
