

Name : _____

Future Perfect Tense

The future perfect tense is used to indicate a future action or event that has a definitive completion time. It is formed with will/shall+have+ verb in past participle.

Example: Casey will have read (read) all the stories by bedtime today.

Complete the sentences using the future perfect tense forms of the verbs in the parentheses.

1) By next June, James _____ (write) his second novel.

2) Ian _____ "The Friends of America" starts.

3) Mother _____ tonight.

4) Santa _____ by tomorrow morning.

5) By December, Uncle _____ from his injury.

6) When you visit us next month, we _____ (be) living in the new house.

7) We _____ (be) there on Saturday.

8) You _____ (learn) Mandarin before you move to China in fall.

9) You _____ (go) to school before the guests arrive tomorrow morning.

10) Aunt Maria _____ (come) by suppertime today.

PREVIEW

Gain complete access to the largest collection of worksheets in all subjects!

Members, please log in to download this worksheet.

Not a member? Please sign up to gain complete access.

www.mathworksheets4kids.com