Elsa is at the entrance of the zoo. She walks toward the north and comes across the ducks waddling in the pond. Elsa strolls further north and there she meets the hungry crocodiles. She turns west to have a look at the twin lions. Walking toward the south, Elsa watches Momma Deer and her fawn at play. She then remembers the elephants and quickly heads toward the east. Elsa looks at the giraffes in the north and the elephants in the south and then she finally bids the animals a goodbye and returns home happily.
